

No-Nonsense in the PMI OVOC Professional Development activities

The training and educational activities of PMI OVOC bring professionals in Project Management together and create a pleasant learning ambient. On June 15, 2010 PMI OVOC had the pleasure to host Neal Whitten's No-Nonsense Advice for Successful Projects 1 Day Seminar. The focus of the seminar was on tips, tactics, approaches successfully used in management of projects. The speaker delivered an inspiring, full day of worth knowledge that left the audience with very actionable advice. With more than 140 attendees, the seminar was a valuable experience, 90% of the respondents to the post event survey evaluated it as "excellent" and "very good".

Audience's feedback on the event:

"The best events I have attended this year, thank you for bringing Neal to Ottawa."

"This was probably the best PMI event that I have attended"

"Keep up the good work and thank you for these opportunities"

"Neal gives examples for the statements he makes

"I can apply this to everyday situations"

"Really enjoyed this seminar.....great speaker"

Sincere appreciation to the volunteers who made this event possible, a highly motivated, very dynamic, hard working team led by Marion Lorden, Project Manager of the event, Leesha Cunningham and Fran Baas, event supporters.

Their feedback to this volunteer experience:

Marion Lorden' comments:"The project ran smoothly and was very satisfying from beginning to end. The volunteer team work well together and I believe the project benefited from the new volunteer election process by having the right people selected. This project gave the team good exposure to the local PMI OVOC members as well as to members of the board making it a great networking opportunity. I look forward to continuing my volunteer efforts with PMI OVOC in the future. "

Fran Baas` comments:"I found the entire seminar very valuable and the key topics for the Culture-Training class to be quite helpful for all projects. What I have taken away from this seminar is the motivation knowing that "if it is meant to be, it is up to me".

Leesha Cunningham `s comments:"It has been a great pleasure to have had this opportunity to work with such a great team, PMI OVOC. The experience with this particular volunteer project was a very positive one for me in the area of networking, meeting new professional, like-minded people. It was also great to see the project successfully completed without major hiccups. I attribute this success to excellent communications and our team was kept informed of all ongoing events and issues via email, with few meetings. Our team members were well organized and supported by our project manager and director. "
